

ImagineDesign Announces Winner of Third Annual Charity Giveaway

Manassas, VA - January 3, 2012 - ImagineDesign, an award-winning, multi-disciplinary branding firm has announced the winner of their third annual "We Fight Ugly" donation competition. In response to the overwhelming number of entries in support of a new site, ImagineDesign has selected ACTS - Prince William County as the recipient of the 2010 contest.

Starting November 18, the public was invited to submit their favorite non-profit on ImagineDesign's Facebook page through a simple web form, along with a brief description of why the organization should receive the free web design. On December 21, the winning charity was announced on Facebook and web site homepage, and contacted by ImagineDesign.

The requirements to qualify were simple: the charity must be a certified non-profit and have a live website that grossly underserved its purpose, providing the "ugly" from which the contest's name is derived. The budget of the web site to be donated is set at $10,000.

"We've been looking forward to this all year" says Patrick King, Founder of ImagineDesign. "The response was enormous, and the respondents were enthusiastic, which is what we hope for. Of course, it makes our decision more difficult, but the spirit of giving is well worth it."

You can learn more about ImagineDesign at <http://www.imagedesigndc.com>. Learn more about ACTS - Prince William County and their programs by visiting <http://www.actspwc.org/>.

For questions and further details, ImagineDesign can also be reached at (703) 873-7740.